Summary: Three years after the "Night howler" case, Nick and Judy are living a peaceful life. Well, they were anyway, until someone in their past decides it's time for vengeance. Rated M for violence, language, and scenes of graphic murders. If you're queazy, have a bag ready.

1. Chapter 1

Well I've decided it's time to start writing again. Only now I'm writing for ZOOTOPIA! I'm taking a well deserved break from my book. Hope you enjoy.

Nick Wilde, the only name that most if not all of the criminals fear in Zootopia. He has arrested over fifty seven criminals, during his fifteen year career as an officer in the ZPD. As Nick worked on some cold cases, the door to his office opened and in walked his partner.

"Well hello carrots!" He said with a huge grin plastered on his muzzle. Judy just giggled. 'This crazy fox, how did we even make it this far?' She thought to herself. Nick got up and walked over to her, he wrapped his arms around her waist. As Judy was about to say something, Nick's lips were on hers in a passionate kiss.

As they made out on Nick's desk they failed to notice the door was wide open. Clawhouser walked in about to say something to Nick, when he heard a slight moan. Clawhouser looked up to see Judy topples and Nick's pants around his ankles.

"WILDE, HOPPS!" They both froze hearing Clawhousers bellowing. Nick was about to pull out of his wife when Clawhouser cleared his throat.

"Wilde, don't you dare move, I only came in here to tell you a suspect was spotted in Tundra town."

He walked out of the office shutting the door behind him.

"Well, where were we." Said Judy pulling Nick back down on her.

(20 minutes later)

Nick and Judy walked out of their office giggling and laughing. Chief Bogo looked at them and knew what happened, he only shrugged his shoulders and walked on.

(With Clawhouser)

The chubby fun loving cheetah was sitting at the front desk, just staring at a completely full box of fresh doughnuts. He heard a familiar laugh and hid his head, trying not to be seen. Nick and Judy walked by the front desk expecting to see Clawhouser. When they saw he wasn't there, Judy shrugged it off thinking he was in the restroom.

(Back with Nick and Judy)

As they walked to their squad car Judy couldn't help but to think back to their office. 'Poor Clawhouser' she thought to herself. Seeing a fox and a bunny having sex on a desk, it would throw just about anyone for a loop.

"I feel really bad," Judy said while getting into the squad car. Nick got in, closed his door, then put on his seatbelt.

"About what?" He asked.

"Clawhouser catching us, in the middle of making love." Judy looked down at the steering wheel, her ears lowered. Nick put a paw on her upper left thigh, she looked over at him as he smiled at her.

"Don't worry carrots, I'll buy him "THE BOX". Judy smiled knowing about " THE BOX".

"He'll love you for eternity and beyond for this." Nick nodded then put his shades on looking "cool".

They drove to the closest Horn and doughnuts. Nick kept looking at his lover, a pure loving smile on hisface. Judy looked at him and blushed.

" N-Nick, you are staring at me like I'm food Hehe. " Nick, knowing his heart belonged to her. Couldn't help but stare at his carrots..

"Well, with that beautiful face it's hard not to stare." She blushed a deep red under her fur. Nick put his paw on her shoulder. Looked her deep into her purple eyes, then leaned in slowly.

'SCREECH, HONK CRASH'

Judy was so distracted by by Nick that she ran a red light!

"SHIT NOT COOL!" Nick yelled. Judy just sat their, wide eyes breathing hard. Nick looked over at her, his eyes narrowed.

"Judy Rose Wilde! What the hell are you doing!?" Judy looked down in shame.

"I-I'm sorry, N-Nick." She started to sob lightly. Nick pulled her close, hugging her tight thankful that she wasn't hurt.

"Nick, I'm really sorry. I was distra-," she couldn't finish her sentence. Nick looked worried, he opened his mouth to say something until he saw what made his wife speechless.

"Heya Nicky boy. Long time, 'click' no see!"

(CRACK,CRACK)

OMG! Nick was shot! But who would want to hurt our favorite fox? Will he survive? You'll have to wait and see.,... Please review and let me know what you think of it.

2. Chapter 2 Lights out

Well I'm back with chapter 2! It will be longer than the first. I'm not much of a talker so enjoy!

Heya Nickie boy 'click' long time no see! "

CRACK CRACk

Judy looked on in horror, her husband of 11 years, slumped over, two bullet wounds in his chest. The perpetrator running to the north east at a full sprint! She was frozen with terror and uttere disbelief.

"J-Judy," Nick tried to rise his paw to get her attention. She wasn't able to hear or feel anything until Nick's paw hit her leg. She looked over at him, coming to her senses.

"OH GOD, NICK!" Judy dashed over to her downed husband and partner, blood seeping out of two bullet wounds in his chest. She put pressure on the wounds as she radioed in for assistance.

"This is unit 143, we have a code 10-00 requesting a bus to 45th and main Savannah square!, Repeat we have a 10-00!" Judy kept pressure on Nick's wounds as she heard the radio come to life.

"Unit 255 is 10-15, ETA 5 mics," "unit 177 is 10-15 ETA, 2 mics," Judy, with tears in her eyes dragged her bleeding partner from the squad car and to the ground. She reapplied the pressure on Nick's chest. Her ears shot up at the sound of police sirens coming up fast.

"Hold on Nick, they're coming!" Judy couldn't hold out for much longer, seeing her husband and partner bleeding to death. The other squad cars finally arrived at the scene.

"Officer HOPPS?!" Yelled an average sized timber wolf.

"Delgado, over here!" Judy screamed. Officer Delgado ran over to his fellow officer to give aid. He radioed in.

"Unit 177 is 10-23 where is the fucking bus at officer Wilde is down!"

"Bus is 10-17 ETA 7 mics."

"10-4." Said Officer Delgado.

After what felt like an eternity, the ambulance finally arrived. The paramedics ran towards Judy and Nick with a stretcher. Delgado radioed in.

" This is officer Delgado the medics are 10-23," as the medics worked on Nick, Judy sat next to her husband holding his paw. His eyes were only slits as he squeezed her paw.

"E-ev-everything, will be, O-okay, carr-carrots," Nick managed a small smile. The medics lifted him onto the stretcher then dashed to the awaiting ambulance. They hoisted him in, one of the medics getting in the back with Nick, as the other jumped in the drivers seat. Judy was about to get in the back with Nick.

"Are you sure you want to go with us?" Asked the paramedic. Judy nodded as she jumped in the back of the ambulance. She took ahold of Nicks paw, stroking it lightly looking at his face.

"Hang in there, I'm not going to lose you, you dumb fox." Tears stream down her cheeks as she kissed his paw gently.

(Back with Delgado)

Delgado's POV

Why, that's the only question running thru my mind. Why would any animal want to hurt officer Wilde. I'm at the scene looking for evidence, or lack thereof. There's nothing, not even a paw print from the shooter. The cruisers interior is caked with blood.

"Rest easy, Nick. I will find the son-of a-bitch that shot you," I walked over to my fellow officers to see if they have found anything.

"Mchorn, find anything that this bastard may have left behind?" Mchorn turned, looked at me and shook his head 'no'.

"Damn it! There has to be something!" I can feel the anger boiling within me, I clench my fists until there turn white under my fur. I was at a loss. If I can't sniff out the shooters scent, and our only weasel on the force can't find any physical evidence, then we're at a dead end.

'Look within yourself, think hard, think of your ancestors'

That was weird, the wind, just, spoke, to, me. Wait a second, no one on the ZPD can find anything. But I think I know who can!

"MCHORN I KNOW SOMEONE THAT CAN HELP!"

Judy's POV

We arrived at the hospital eight minutes ago. Nick is in emergency surgery, I'm sitting in the waiting room. Three other officers including chief Bogo are here as well. I have been crying since they took my husband and partner back. The waiting room is fairly empty, only other animals in here are two other foxes. The female fox looks really familiar, maybe it's the green eyes, or maybe the light shade of red fur. I slid from my seat and walked over to the couple.

She is wearing a simple yet beautiful spring sundress. Her mate is garbed in a simple shirt and bluejeans. As I got closer could see that the vixen has been crying. I hopped up onto the seat next to her.

"Is everything okay, ma'am?" She turned to look at me, tears forming in her eyes.

"No, my son is in emergency surgery getting two bullets removed from His chest." I went to give her a hug when it hit me.

"Is your son a police officer by any chance?" The vixen nodded and blew her nose.

"His name is Nick Wilde." Oh shit, I am talking to Nick's mother! I started to get light headed.

"Sweetie, are you okay?" Before I could say anything.

'THUD'

Lights out.

what's up everyone! Please forgive me. This chapter is short but I had to end it here. The next chapter will be the beginning of very exciting events. **

Here's a question for you all.

Who do you think Delgado had in mind that can help? Let me know who you think it is with a review. Thanks for reading! Until next time
